* Award only available to students grandfathered in program.

Dark gray shading indicates an academic award that was not available during that academic year.

Academic year awards are used to show the number of academic awards and completers in a full academic year (fall-spring-summer) and are used to calculate completion and fall-to-fall retention rates.

Academic year awards are used in the IPEDS graduation rates reporting and used in many other types of performance reporting (e.g., reporting associated with grants). They are also reported to the state Department of Education.
